When you make the right choice—whether it’s something as simple as a place for dinner or the home where you’ll spend years—you just know it. There’s a sense of gratification that comes every time you think about getting it right. With your home, you never miss its beauty, no matter how many times you pull into the driveway. That’s what The Hennefield floor plan gives to the people who have chosen this stunning home design. And it’s not just the exterior that gives you that surge of pride. Inside, this home gracefully guides you from room to room. The rich plank floors are lit up with natural light that comes through the many windows. The details, seemingly small, such as the natural beauty of granite or quartz countertops—come together like brushstrokes on a masterpiece. The Hennefield’s main floor flows seamlessly, without walls, from the kitchen to the great room to the dining area, and a formal dining room sits just beyond the kitchen. Upstairs, the owner’s suite, of course, gives you the rewards of ownership, like an en suite bath with both a step-in shower and inviting soaking tub. The other three bedrooms are nicely sized to avoid any grumbling about who gets which one!
